

Thank you

It means the world that you've chosen to bring Fahli and the world of Iyanwa into your classroom. These resources were made with genuine love for storytelling, for curious minds, and for the teachers who inspire them every single day. Happy reading, happy teaching — and thank you, from the bottom of my heart, for sharing these stories with the young readers in your world.

— C.J. Biggin

About the books

Fahli is the prequel to IYANWA — a middle grade fantasy adventure about friendship, self-discovery, and an unlikely journey that was never meant to happen. Written and illustrated by C.J. Biggin, both books are designed for readers aged 8–12 and bring to life a rich, imaginative world filled with extraordinary animals, unforgettable characters, and themes that stay with you long after the last page.

How to use this kit

Everything in this activity kit is free to print and use in your classroom, reading group or homeschool setting. You're welcome to photocopy any resource for classroom use. If you share it online, we'd just ask that you credit C.J. Biggin and link back to www.cjbiggin.com.

If your class enjoys the activities, I'd love to hear about it — tag me on social media or drop me a message.

Stay Connected

For new resources, school visit enquiries, and updates on upcoming books:

Website: www.cjbiggin.com

Email: wildrunpress@gmail.com

Instagram: @cjbiggin

Sign up to my newsletter on cjbiggin.com for free resources delivered straight to your inbox.